

New ALLPLAN Cloud Licensing

Allplan Cloud Services are following the general switch of our products to the new licensing system 10Duke. From April 28th, 2025, on, the old licensing will be ignored and the assigned Allplan Cloud licenses in Connect 2.0 will be used. There is a limited grace period to smoothen the transition, where we ensure, that you can use the products also without correct assigned license.

Affected Products are ALLPLAN Bimplus, ALLPLAN Share, ALLPLAN COR, ALLPLAN Exchange.

All ALLPLAN Cloud licenses are named licenses and can only be assigned to a specific user. They are valid globally and personally named. To be able to continue working with the affected products, users need to be invited to the license organization in Connect 2.0 and get licenses assigned to them.

The ALLPLAN Cloud / Bimplus license is valid in any team and any project the user is invited to.

As a user

Please contact the license administrator within your company to assign a license to you.

As a license admin

General case

License management is now unified for ALLPLAN Licenses and ALLPLAN Cloud licenses alike, and is done on ALLPLAN Connect. If you are not familiar with this concept, the following links may help you on your way, or you can run the in-product onboarding from the bottom right of ALLPLAN Connect, using the rocket.

Change of Bimplus licenses

When a user is invited to a project and has no license, he will get the selected role. But without a license, he cannot fulfil this role and just will have similar rights as a viewer until a license is assigned to him. The invitation dialog explains it to the inviting administrator:

NOTE: To ensure the invited user can fully participate in your project/team, please make sure they have an appropriate license. Without a valid license, their access will be limited, and they may not be able to actively contribute. If the user needs a license, reach out to your organization's administrator to assign one.

After the invited user has accepted the invitation from Connect, you as license admin from the company have to assign a license to the user. From this moment on, he can fully participate in his role.

To help you in the transition from team-based licenses, during a limited time, you can start the process from the Connect Manage dashboard, which will guide you through it and offer you an overview of all the Bimplus Team Members for Bimplus Teams that belong to your company and are in need of a license.

This process is not mandatory, as the same result can be achieved through manual license management, but it is highly recommended to save time and effort.

Through this process, the Cloud licenses will be grouped in a new entitlement. Selected users will be grouped into two new user groups: one for Bimplus users from inside your company, and one for external people that were invited into your Bimplus Teams. The licenses will automatically be assigned to and reserved for the users.

During the process, you can define for each user if they should have access to a Cloud license (which includes all ALLPLAN Cloud products) or a Bimplus pro license, depending on the licenses that are available in your company.

Remark: 'Internal' users are connected to your company. 'External' users are not (yet) connected to your company. It is always possible to manually move people between user groups, if needed, after finishing the process.

Since users can be part of multiple user groups, this process will only affect the use of ALLPLAN Cloud licenses. The use of ALLPLAN licenses and entitlements, and existing user groups will not be affected.

Conversion of Cloud Licensing

The list below contains all Team Members of your BIMPLUS Team(s) who have not yet been assigned a Cloud Licence and is displayed as follows:

- Users that are already part of the new licensing system cannot be deselected.
- Users that are connected to your company are marked as "Internal users"

Please check the list below to avoid mis-assignment of licences. You can deselect users, that should not be transferred to your licensing organisation and/or change the automatic reservation of ALLPLAN Cloud and BIMPLUS Licenses.

XX ALLPLAN Cloud and XX BIMPLUS Pro licenses are currently available for assignment in the new licensing system.
